PRO SET 3

Heil Pro Set 3 (Headphones)

The moment you slip on a pair of Heil Pro Set 3 headphones, you will notice they are incredibly comfortable. The Pro Set 3 is a circumaural, closed-back design (which passively isolates external noise), so you notice how quiet they are. When the music or sound source comes on, you will experience total emersion into sonic heaven. The Pro Set 3 headphones gently hug your head, and encompass your ears with extremely soft padded cushions, which also serve to attenuate external sounds, and provide a better listening experience inside.

Every detail to increase comfort, including the adjustable (heavily cushioned), headband has been meticulously engineered into the design of the Pro Set 3 headphones.

With the Pro Set 3 headphones, any sound (be it a classical symphony, the human voice in speech or song, or a rock band in high gear), will sound as if it is live, and you are "right there being personally entertained".

Heil Sound chose the closed-back design so that passive acoustical noise reduction would allow the natural sound to come through uninhibited. The frequency range (10Hz to 22 kHz), comes through 40mm neodymium magnets driving the speaker coils producing a most natural, and balanced listening experience every time.

Best of all, Heil realizes that your needs include the ability to use the Pro Set 3 with iPhones and iPads, as well as amateur radio, PA boards, and recording studio settings, so included are multiple cables and the appropriate end-connections to facilitate all the versatility you have come to know and expect from Heil Sound Ltd.

You can add an optional custom carrying case (Bag-1) for your Pro Set 3 headphones. If you're on the go, this is a nice option to consider.
